

Bartoletti, Susan Campbell. The Boy Who Dared
Like all of his friends, Helmuth, a German teenager in the 1930s, joins the Hitler Youth. Can he be a good Nazi while staying true to his Mormon faith?

Bingham, Kelly. Shark Girl
A shark attack results in the amputation of 15-year-old Jane's arm, but the hardest adjustment is to how her family and friends now treat her.

Bodeen, S. A. The Compound
Following a nuclear attack, Eli's wealthy family moves into the luxurious bomb shelter his dad had built. Six years underground has made Eli begin to ask questions Dad doesn't want to answer.

Colfer, Eoin. Airman
It's the 1890s and Conor is imprisoned on Little Saltee Island, falsely accused of killing the King. Torture, swordplay, flying, a battle of wits and more bring this adventure to an explosive climax.

Connor, Leslie. Waiting for Normal
To make up for her mother's neglect, 12-year-old Addie makes friends with her neighbors, especially trying to help Soula, who is battling cancer.

Dowell, Frances O'Roark. Shooting the Moon
Jamie's an "Army brat" whose older brother, TJ, sends her photos to develop from Vietnam. Her friendship with Private Hollister leads her to make an important request of her father, the Colonel.

Green, Tim. Football Genius
Troy can predict what plays are going to be called in football, so when his mother gets an office job with the Atlanta Falcons, Troy sees his opportunity to help the struggling NFL team.
